Want to help Amnesty develop its work?

Want to meet other youth members?

Free to come to London on the 18th November 2017?

Apply to be on AIUK's Youth Advisory Group!

Recruitment has now started for Amnesty's Youth Advisory Group. Each year we recruit a small group of youth group members to give us their views on our campaigns, our mailings, our website and how we can get more young people involved in Amnesty.

Who can apply?

Up to 2 members from each youth group can apply. We like to get a good spread of people from across the UK. This great opportunity is for enthusiastic and committed members of youth groups aged 14 and over.

Do I have to know lots about Amnesty International?

You don't need to be an expert on Amnesty. Nor do you have had to be a member of a youth group for long. But we do need you to be committed, passionate about Amnesty and ready to contribute positively.

How much time will I have to give?

It is a one-year commitment and you are expected to attend 5 meetings over the course of the year. We cover all transport costs and pay for accommodation if you need it. The meetings are always on Saturdays and the first one will be on the 18th November 2017. Other meetings will be in January, March, July and September 2018. Meetings are at our offices, the Human Rights Action Centre, in London. In addition, you will be asked to give feedback by email, text or social media in between meetings.

What happens at meetings?

For those of you who have to come down the night before, we pick you up from the station if you want us to. We take you to your accommodation and we take you out for dinner too - we pay! At least two staff members also stay at the accommodation and we provide 24-hour contact phone numbers.

Meetings run from about 10am to 4pm and are really informal. We basically just ask you for your opinions and ideas on all kinds of things such as our materials, website and campaigns. Sometimes we split you up into smaller groups to discuss things or sometimes we all stay as one group. There are usually about 20 of you in total. We try to make sure the day is fun and active. At the end of the meeting we can take people back to the station if needed. We cover all your food and travel expenses.

How do I apply?

Fill out the form overleaf and post or email it to us by the end of the day on Sunday 22nd October 2017. Our contact details are on the first page. Successful applicants will need to organise their travel arrangements soon after this date so be prepared! We will, of course, help with this.

We asked this year's group what they gained from being part of YAG. Here's what they said:

'met new people, gained ideas for youth group, independence'

'A support network of fellow Amnesty youth members'

'You feel like you make a difference and are important'

'Confidence, independence, motivation for running your group, part of a valuable movement'

'People have commented on how I've matured'

'Friends and knowledge about how Amnesty works'

'an understanding of what happens 'behind the scenes'

'a better appreciation of how widespread Amnesty's work is'
