TAKE ON A CHALLENGE

To protect human rights for everyone, everywhere

'Thank you for the opportunity to run the London marathon with Amnesty UK. The support and training I received were really first class. I am looking forward to my next challenge.'

Cathy, London Marathon runner

'My son and I walked the Thames Path Challenge and raised over £500 for Amnesty. We enjoyed the day a lot though it was a long walk and quite tough in the later stages.'

I love running for Team Amnesty because I know they make a difference. Representing people who are marginalised and without a voice. Caring enough to cheer in your corner.

Harv, Royal Parks Half Marathon runner

WELCOME TO TEAM AMNESTY

Thank you for joining Team Amnesty. Your support means you've taken an important step towards a safer, more just world.

Whatever challenge you've set yourself, every penny you raise will help Amnesty International UK defend human rights and change lives for the better.

This guide contains ideas and inspiration to help you get started and reach your goal.

Thank you and good luck.

'I'd say to anyone, do it. Enjoy the experience of taking part in something peaceful and communal for a great cause.'

GET STARTED

Fundraising basics

Ready...

Create your online fundraising page for Amnesty International UK on Just Giving: justgiving.com/amnesty. Personalise it with a target, photo and short story about your challenge.

Steady...

Write a plan. Break down your target into smaller amounts by thinking of several ways to raise funds. Plot planned activities in your diary.

Go!

Share your page with the world. Make the most of key dates – birthdays, pay days, training milestones, a countdown to the big day and, of course, the triumphant finish.

Other ways to raise funds

Raise more money with these tried and tested ideas

Pub quiz

You can often secure a pub space for free; find quiz ideas online

Raffle and auction

Ask local shops and businesses for donations; include as part of an existing event

Sell your stuff

Have a clear out and sell unwanted items via eBay, a car boot sale or a clothes swap

Company matching

Many companies match funds raised by employees to double the total; talk to your employer

Tip

Keep things simple. Choose something you enjoy and can easily organise at work or in your community

Cake sale

Sell cakes at work or host an AmnesTea

Collection

Ask a local supermarket or shop if you can collect on their premises or put an Amnesty collection tin on their counter

YOU'RE MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Running a marathon, abseiling for the first time or trekking a coastal path is a great personal challenge. Taking it on as part of Team Amnesty means you'll be making a wider impact.

Together, we can help humanity defeat injustice: we can free the falsely imprisoned, overturn unjust laws, welcome refugees and protect human rights defenders. That's just the start.

Your fundraising will also get the message out there: by showing the world that human rights are important to you, you'll inspire more people to join Amnesty. And when we act together, there's no stopping us.

In February 2023, Iranian women's rights defenders Yasaman Aryani and her mother Monireh Arabshahi were released after nearly four years in prison. They were arrested after being filmed unveiled while sharing their hopes for the future. Amnesty subsequently launched a petition and over one million supporters around the world took action for Yasaman and Monireh, demanding their freedom.

Amnesty's annual Football Welcomes month sees around 200 football clubs, county FAs and local organisations across the UK organise community events to welcome refugees and people seeking asylum. Its success initially led to a three-year community programme with five football clubs to tackle isolation year-round. We are now looking to expand that into even more community programmes with even more clubs.
