

JOIN US FOR JUSTICE AND HUMAN RIGHTS FOR ALL

As a member of Amnesty International UK's Circle of Conscience, you will be amongst like-minded individuals who are dedicated to justice and human rights for all. As a member, you will be right at the heart of our work. We will keep you involved with the issues that interest you most; you will have opportunities to spend time with our investigators who work on the ground in conflict zones; you will be invited to join our most prestigious events and should you wish, you can share your details and network with other passionate and influential members.

To become a member, we ask for an annual donation of between £2,500 and £10,000 for three years. A three-year commitment gives you the opportunity to invest in our strategy and helps us to plan, implement and deliver our human rights work – from documenting human rights abuses in war zones and telling the truth about what is happening, to defending individual people whose rights to freedom of speech have been denied.

We invite you...

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL

...to join our Circle of Conscience

'As member of the Circle of Conscience, I proudly stand alongside Amnesty International in campaigning for human rights for all. Amnesty has always been at the frontline of human rights, and I feel privileged to enable their vital work and to learn directly from the expert researchers and campaigners.'

Circle member Michael Attenborough CBE

'We're proud to support the work of Amnesty, and our staff enjoy the chance to get closer to its heart. A surprise benefit has been how much our clients and friends get from Amnesty events when we're able to extend an invite. They are often genuinely moved by what they see and hear.'

Circle member Clare Rodway of Kysen PR

'In a world where far too often human rights are ignored or abused for political ends, Amnesty's work in publicising these and educating people on their fundamental rights has never been more important.'

Circle members David and Margaret Stevenson

THE WORLD IS CHANGING

These are challenging times for justice and human rights. Battles over natural and other resources, rising inequalities, increasing movement of people within and across borders, ongoing crises and conflicts and lawless actions by states in the name of public order and ending terrorism.

More and more people are striving to get their voices heard – speaking out on the streets and through social media. States are responding with ever more organised and vicious crackdowns on dissent. Civil society space may be shrinking but people power remains determined.

Just as the world is changing, so too is Amnesty International. By harnessing the energies of our growing movement and strengthening our legitimacy, speed, capacity and relevance – we're positioning Amnesty International as a truly international people's voice for justice. Our aim is simple: an end to human rights abuses. Independent, international and influential, we campaign for justice, fairness, freedom and truth wherever they are denied. Already our network of over seven million people is making a difference in almost every country in the world. Whether we are applying pressure through powerful research or direct lobbying, mass demonstrations or online campaigning, we are all inspired by hope for a better world. One where human rights are enjoyed by all.

But we need your help to build on this momentum.

I invite you to become a member of our Circle of Conscience. As you read on, I encourage you to consider that we exist because one individual stood up for the rights of another. It's as simple as that.
