November 2013

PROTECT THE HUMAN

We are ordinary people from across the world standing up for humanity and human rights. Our purpose is to protect individuals wherever justice, fairness, freedom and truth are denied.

PREVIOUS EVENTS – AN EVENING WITH(OUT) FILEP KARMA

Friday 18th October 2013 saw a high profile event in UK as Reading Amnesty International Group drew attention to Filep's plight at a special meeting as part of Reading International Festival. Reading Amnesty Group have been campaigning for his freedom for over 10 years.

Eighty people heard the political and legal background to his story from human rights activist Peter Tatchell, international law expert Melinda Janki and from West Papuans themselves, including Chief Benny Wenda, Chair of the Koteka Tribal Assembly, joined by the West Papuan Lani Singers. The audience then took practical actions to help Filep, signing a petition to the Indonesian Ambassador (who sent his representative to observe the meeting) and writing postcards to Filep, which we know help to keep him in good spirits. His daughter Audryne sent a short film thanking the people of Reading for their support. You can see it here: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cr\_S5UvMtAY

- Saudi Arabian man – call on the authorities to halt the execution of Mabruk bin Ali al-Sai'ari. Please send this email as soon as possible, by end of December at the latest.
- Adly al-Qazzaz - Egyptian armed security forces arrested 67-year-old Adly al-Qazzaz at his home in Cairo, at 3 am on 24 October. A State Security Prosecutor is investigating accusations that he belongs to a "banned group". Amnesty International is concerned that Adly al-Qazzaz, who is in poor health, was arrested because his son is an aide to the deposed president, Mohamed Morsi. However, this is not mentioned in the attached letter since it is speculation (probably justified) but stating it in the letter may not help his case. According to the information available to Amnesty International, the security forces who arrested Adly al-Qazzaz did not show any warrant and were dressed in plain clothes. They took Adly al-Qazzaz to Moqattam Police Station and then to the Supreme State Security Prosecution Office in New Cairo where he was questioned over accusations that he belongs to a banned group, and has taken part in terrorist-related activities. The security forces then transferred Adly al-Qazzaz to the Tora Prison complex, south of Cairo. Adly al-Qazzaz was not allowed to inform his family and lawyer of his whereabouts for three days after his arrest.
Adly al-Qazzaz's lawyer told Amnesty International that the Prosecutor did not present any incriminating evidence during the questioning to support the accusations against Adly al-Qazzaz. Instead, the questioning focused on his political beliefs.

A medical report states that Adly al-Qazzaz suffers from heart disease, diabetes and high blood pressure. He was also due for a knee-replacement operation and recently underwent an operation on his back. His family is concerned that the authorities are not giving him adequate medication for his diabetes and heart condition.

Please take this action by 12th December 2013

Your Excellency

I would be grateful if you would pass on to your government my urgent request that they halt the execution of Mabruk bin Ali al-Sai'ari.

I would respectfully remind the Saudi authorities that international standards for fair trials, including the UN Safeguards guaranteeing protection of the rights of those facing the death penalty, hold that capital punishment may only be imposed after a fair trial in which defendants are provided with adequate legal assistance at all stages of the proceedings. According to my information, such legal assistance was not given to Ibrahim Hassan either during his pre-trial detention or during any of his three trials. I am also informed that the evidence against him was either insubstantial or self-contradictory.

Moreover, there are allegations that Mabruk bin Ali al-Sai'ari was severely tortured in an (unsuccessful) attempt to make him confess to the crime of which he was accused. I call on the Saudi authorities to open an immediate, impartial and independent investigation into these allegations.

I am also concerned about the second defendant in the case, Said bin Aoun bin Abdullah al-Sai'ari, who was acquitted of the murder but remains in prison.

Yours respectfully

The arrest of Adly al-Qazzaz on 24 October 2013 at his home in Cairo

I am writing to express my concern over the arrest of Mr Adly al-Qazzaz on 24 October by plain clothes armed security officials who showed no arrest warrants. He was taken to the Supreme State Security Prosecution Office in New Cairo for questioning over accusations that he belonged to a banned group and had taken part in terrorist activities. No evidence was offered to support these accusations. He was then transferred to the Tora prison complex.

I would urge you to release Mr Adly al-Qazzaz immediately unless he is charged with a criminal offence. He should then be tried in a civilian court with guarantees for a fair trial according to international standards (to which Egypt is a party) which include specified charges and full access to a lawyer.

The family of Mr Adly al-Qazzaz only learnt of his arrest three days after it had happened. Mr Adly al-Qazzaz has been denied access to his family and they are very concerned for his health since he needs medication for heart disease, diabetes and high blood pressure. I would ask you to ensure that Mr Adly al-Qazzaz has access to his family and that the security authorities will provide appropriate medical care while he is in detention.

Yours respectfully
