

GREECE

Costas

ATTACKED FOR BEING IN LOVE

While sitting on a bench in central Athens in August 2014, Costas and his partner, who is a refugee, were badly beaten up by thugs in a homophobic and racist attack. No suspects were ever identified. Between 2014 and 2015, the number of reported attacks against gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender or intersex (LGBTI) people in Greece has more than doubled. Police and the government have done little to discourage such racist and homophobic violence. Greek law doesn't recognise same-sex relationships. Costas and his partner live in constant fear for their safety. In March 2015, his partner was attacked again.

SEND AN APPEAL LETTER:

Call on the justice minister to ensure justice for Costas.

Write to: Nikos Paraskevopoulos,
Minister of Justice, Transparency and Human Rights
Ministry of Justice, Transparency and Human Rights
96 Mesogeion Avenue
115 27 Athens
Greece

Fax: 0030 775 5835
Email: grammateia@justice.gov.gr
Twitter: @govgr

Salutation: Dear Minister

In your letter: Urge the minister to carry out a prompt, independent and impartial investigation into the attack suffered by Costas and his partner with the intention that those responsible are convicted with a sentence that fully acknowledges the hate motive behind the attack. Urge the authorities to ensure that Costas and his partner get compensation for the injuries and trauma they have suffered.

Suggested tweet: End hate crimes and stand against racism, homophobia and transphobia @govgr #W4R
