policy on access to abortion services		the summer holiday period but this proved not to be possible, given other competing priorities. Implementation is therefore slightly off-track but this will not impact on the key decision point – December's Board meeting.
A5(2016) Climate change is a human rights issue	G	No further action has been taken since the AGM. The resolution calls for AIUK to take a resolution to next year's International Council Meeting. The deadline for resolutions is likely to be in January 2017.	Hannah Perry	hannah.perry@amnesty.org.uk
B1(2016) Voting rights for elections held at the AGM	A	No further action has been taken since this AGM. Additional legal advice might be necessary. Plans to take this advice in the summer were put on hold to await the arrival of a new Company Secretary, who started work in September 2016.	Cris Burson- Thomas	Cris.Burson-Thomas@amnesty.org.uk
B2(2016) Closure of human rights NGO accounts by the Co-op Bank	A	Further work is needed to determine how AIUK proceeds with the implementation of the decision and this planning work is slightly behind expectations. However, work has been undertaken since the AGM, including a working-level meeting with the "Save our Bank" group and, on 6 July, AIUK hosted a seminar with a number of external bodies to discuss the impact of bank closures. The International Secretariat participated in this (in the context of scoping work for the campaign on the shrinking of civil society space. In June, the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) decided to revise its problematic	Cris Burson- Thomas	Cris.Burson-Thomas@amnesty.org.uk

		Recommendation 8 (concerning NGOs) to clarify that not all NGOs are high risk with respect to money laundering and terrorist financing and that not all are intended to be addressed by Recommendation 8. The FATF has also said that the revision is intended to align the implementation of Recommendation 8 with risk-based approaches. This is a positive development.
B3(2016) Use of live streaming and online voting at the AIUK AGM	G	An initial scoping meeting was held with one potential provider of services. However, it is unlikely that they would be able to provide the services that are required. Whilst "live streaming" is not expected to present too many logistical problems, remote participation may do. We intend to explore this, including through soliciting legal advice (if necessary) during the Autumn.	Harrison Littler	harrison.litter@amnesty.org.uk
B4(2016) Banners and placards for groups and networks	G	This is being carried forward in the production of materials for the refugee campaign and also through the review and development of communication materials for activists.	Cris Burson- Thomas	Cris.Burson-Thomas@amnesty.org.uk
B5(2016) Developing a body of rules for the governance of AIUK	G	An initial draft set of rules has been produced and is in consultation.	Harrison Littler	harrison.litter@amnesty.org.uk
B4(2015) Addressing impunity in Guatemala	G	No update since the last report.	Tom Sparks	Tom.Sparks@amnesty.org.uk

These will need to be considered in the light of plans for the Global Campaign on refugees, which we are continuing to develop.
